Description

In Brief

Unlike other wine regions of Italy, Friuli is known for growing both local grape varieties - T-Friulano, Ribolla Gialla, and international ones such as Sauvignon Blanc, Chardonnay, Merlot and Cabernet Sauvignon. Collio, a Friuli DOC subregion, is one of the world's most famous regions for high-quality white wines, thanks to its unique terroir.

Tasting notes

Slightly pale straw yellow ushers in absinthe-like florality and tropical fruits. Fresh, aroma-rich and well balanced in the mouth.

Food Pairing

A wine to enjoy as an aperitif, or with fish or egg dishes.
