Description

In Brief This wine is an elegant version of the Mavrud grape variety with a focus on its fruity character and made in order to be a gastronomic wine. The Merlot contributes to a rounded body and enriches the fruit character of the wine. The ageing in oak enriches the bouquet and makes this wine an excellent choice, both on its own and in combination with complex dishes.

Tasting notes Deep, dark ruby colour. Rich and complex aroma with noticeable notes of black berries, vanilla and spices. Fresh and tight body with a balanced, smoky finish. There are hints of blueberries, resin and prunes.

Food Pairing Tomato-based dishes, pasta, meat and soft cheeses.
